

FROM FAR LEFT Pot, £55, Niki Jones. Heels, £610, Miu Miu. Opium chaise longue, £4,450, Bokja Design at Liberty. Lucy Star teapot, £332, Mariage Frères. Marakanda pouffe, £475, Quirico.

Livingetc
loves

OTTOMANIA

Models in Kenzo's spring/summer show captured the romance of the nomadic life of Central Asia. The Silk Road heritage of the 'Stans was there in all its flamboyant glory: embroidered textiles, floral silks, vibrant yarns and elaborate head scarves. Top Floor, Niki Jones, Quirico and Bokja Design are bringing this exotic global style to the home. The patterns on suzani – a traditional embroidered textile – are integral to the look. 'They were handed down as dowries and provide a wonderful splash of colour,' says Sarah Richards at Quirico. Niki Jones advises how to blaze your own interiors trail: 'Use them as little gem-like accents in a modern interior, or layered to create a strong boho style.'

FAR LEFT TO RIGHT Princess Gevher rug, £920 per sq m, Top Floor. Kenzo spring/summer '11. Fifties Suzani fabric armchair, £495, Graham & Green. Tuzhely 2 Bonfire Low table, £1,950, A&Z Design at Mint.